Dear Students,

On behalf of the Chinese-American Engineers and Scientists Association of Southern California (CESASC) Scholarship Committee, I would like to inform you that the 2013 CESASC Scholarship is open for application. The deadline is January 31, 2013.

CESASC is one of the largest and the most established Chinese-American professional organizations in Southern California. Founded in 1962, CESASC has been dedicated to promote interests, aspirations, and professional excellence of Chinese-American engineers and scientists. CESASC provides career and educational advancement opportunities, technical exchange, fellowship and community service. In particular, CESASC offers annual scholarships to encourage young students to develop their interests and pursue their careers in the fields of science, engineering, and technology.

All scholarship recipients are invited to the CESASC Annual Convention and network with professionals in the fields. Graduate student recipients are also invited to present their research work at the CESASC Annual Convention. Each scholarship recipient will be paired up with a mentor who is a CESASC member.

In the past five years alone, CESASC gave away $44,000 in scholarships awarded to thirty eight excellent students. The 2013 Scholarship application form and FAQ files are attached for your convenience. More information about CESASC and the Scholarship can be found at <http://www.cesasc.org/>.

Please help us notify your fellow students about this opportunity. We look forward to hearing from all of you.

Thank you for your interest and best of luck in your educational endeavor.

Sincerely,

Sheng-He Huang, M.D.

Chair of 2012-2013 CESASC Scholarship Committee
